

$500 Donated to Wasatch County Search and Rescue

12-26-85

Park City resident John Warren has been selected to receive the Mountain Bell Employee Recognition Award for outstanding volunteer service in Salt Lake City. He was honored at a luncheon held at the Marriott Hotel in Salt Lake on Dec. 13.

Under Mountain Bell's Employee Recognition Program, recipients of the award may donate a $1,000 grant to a non-profit organization of their choice. Warren contributed his award--two $500 checks--to the Wasatch and Summit County Search and Rescue Teams.

"One of Mountain Bell's major goals is to encourage employee volunteerism," says Barbara Graham, staff manager-Public Relations. "John was nominated for the award by his peers for his involvement in the 1985 Special Winter Olympics. John chaired the facilities committee of the Regional and International Special Olympics," Graham explains, adding that this was a very large undertaking under difficult circumstances. "Many obstacles had to be overcome and long hours were worked, due to weather, time schedules and Olympic Committee changes."

she comments. "Our annual corporate giving program provides substantial financial support to non-profit organizations in the communities it serves. The effectiveness of the Company's contributions is enhanced by employees who donate time and help to organizations that provide valuable community services," Graham says. The Employee Recognition Program, according to Graham, was designed to recognize employees currently serving as volunteers, as well as to encourage other employees to get involved.

Mountain Bell Loop Technician John Warren (far right) presents $500 donation to Steve Paskett, on behalf of the Summit County Sheriff's Patrol Search and Rescue Unit. Paskett serves as commander of the unit and is also a central office technician for Mountain Bell. Accepting the donation for Wasatch County is Sheriff Mike Spanos. Also shown is Mountain Bell Assistant Manager Frank Sutera.

Midway Chief of Police Files For Wasatch County Sheriff

Edd Thacker who is presently serving as Midway City's Chief of Police has filed to run for Wasatch County Sheriff.

Thacker's law enforcement experience started in 1975 as a deputy sheriff for Wasatch County under Sheriff Floyd Witt's administration. He continued working for the Sheriff's Office for the next six years.

In 1981 he interrupted his law enforcement career to become the manager of Big "O" Tire Store, a local business owned and operated by Ken Smith. In 1983 he returned to law enforcement hiring on as Midway's Police Chief and has continued to serve in that capacity to the present.

Edd is a life-long resident of Heber City. He married Peggy VanWagoner and they are the parents of four children.

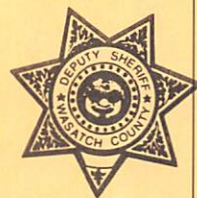

Edd loves law enforcement and is ready and able to get involved this election to serve the residents of Wasatch County.

Edd Thacker

"The Right Choice"

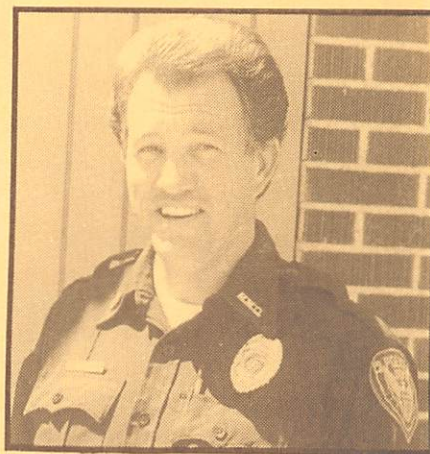

Nov. 4th

EDD THACKER

for

Wasatch County Sheriff

Trained
Honest
Attitude
Courteous
Knowledgeable Experienced Respected

Edd is a trained police officer, graduated from police academy, where he certified. Has spent many hours in training and workshops, pertaining to law enforcement, always updating his status as a police officer. He is presently Midway's Police Chief (3 years) and also served under two different sheriff's administrations as a deputy. (6½ years)

Edd married Peggy Van Wagoner, both lifetime residents of Wasatch County, they are the parent of four children. Both are very active in school, church, and community service.

Edd will bring much hard work, experience and service to this office. He is totally dedicated to serving you the residents of Wasatch County...

" Isn't it time for a change ! "

- Be a Thacker backer -